Fund Performance Review & Market Commentary

The Aeon Domestic Balanced Fund was up by 5.95% for the fourth quarter of 2023 and is up 4.87% over a one-year period.

The quarter ended December was positive for global equities with South Africa catching the updraft. Despite this, market sentiment turned negative over concerns global central banks would not cut interest rates as quickly as the market is currently pricing in, leaning into the “higher-for-longer” narrative. The price of oil was in focus as tensions in the Middle East heightened because of the Israel-Palestine conflict and more recently after Houthi rebels attacked ships in the Red Sea forcing global shipping and oil companies to suspend transit through this important trade route. For the month ended December, the Financials sector emerged as the top performer, led by FirstRand and Standard Bank. On the other hand, Resources was the worst performer for the month, led by Anglo American and Sasol.

Positive indicators persist as the market maintains its anticipation for potential rate cuts; nonetheless, investors are tempering their expectations regarding the Federal Reserve's ability to implement such measures in the immediate future. Supporting this narrative has been the US jobs report for November in which nonfarm payrolls came in above expectations at an increase of 199 000, the unemployment rate surprised to the downside at 3.7% while the wage growth rate was largely in line with consensus at 4% year on year.

Locally, sentiment remains subdued. State-owned enterprises (SOEs) continue to shape sentiment in the South African market with Eskom and Transnet at the forefront. Loadshedding eased towards the end of the quarter but is expected to continue as we head into 2024. Disruptions in critical ports, notably in Durban and Cape Town, have posed challenges for importers in the runup to the festive period and are anticipated to persist, presenting hurdles for exporters in the months ahead. There is an increasing amount of railway track falling into disuse and continued copper theft creating multiple delays. The financial outlook for South Africa in the coming years looks challenging, characterised by low GDP growth rates and high unemployment, resulting in weakened consumer spending, and widening income inequality. Of noteworthy significance in 2024 is the impending South African elections, carrying substantial political weight and uncertainty.

Our strategy focuses on astute stock selection, guided by our Growth at a Reasonable Price (GARP) philosophy, which seeks value throughout economic cycles. We prioritise companies with strong cash flows that can support earnings, aiming to benefit our portfolios in the coming period.

To give you a glimpse into our portfolio, we share insights on our portfolio companies. This quarter, we are spotlighting Compagnie Financière Richemont S.A, a relatively recent addition to our portfolio. As a leading player in the luxury goods sector, Richemont's Maisons in jewellery, watches, and writing instruments offer a unique blend of heritage and innovation. Following the normalisation of post-pandemic demand for luxury goods, Richemont's current valuation presents an opportunistic entry point. Trading below its historical average multiples, the stock offers rare access to a premium brand at a discount. Despite demand easing, our investment philosophy and process have identified substantial upside potential in Richemont's current price. Recognizing the cyclical nature of certain luxury segments, Richemont has strategically shifted its focus toward hard luxury such as jewellery. This deliberate evolution enhances financial stability and mitigates exposure to volatile fashion trends. Taking all these factors into account, we are optimistic about Richemont's earnings prospects over the next five years. We believe there is potential for earnings to outperform expectations, ultimately leading to significant returns for our funds and clients.
